Project aims

- i. To support academic colleagues in making informed choices about the technologies they use for assessment and feedback
- ii. To jointly plan and operationalise the introduction of e-assessment across a diverse and complex, multi national university mindful of the professional and regulatory requirements
- iii. To embed understandings of diverse academic identities within assessment practices and to enrich through sharing practice institutional understanding of e-assessment.
- iv. To address tensions within and between institutional functions to develop a sustainable institution wide approach to e-assessment
